

Care for Craig Fund Raising High Tea Event

Despite thunderstorms, blustery winds and rain members and partners of the Rotary Club of Fremantle turned out in force to support their Care for Craig project. Undaunted by the conditions they donned their Sunday best and ventured to Coogee to the home of Michael & Pamela Grabau for an elegant high tea.

It was hoped that the event could raise $500.00 however with a total of 26 guests attending a very pleasing $565.00 was raised.

Guests were greeted with a glass of champagne or wine and some yummy hot and cold savouries. Whilst it didn't take the men long to polish off the hot pies and sausage rolls the ladies were cautious enough to pace themselves and leave room for the "not so slimming" sweet treats on offer.

Pamela spent a busy week cooking up sweet goodies. Her sincere thanks go to Jo Booth, Rosie Bilsbey and Jill Binning who also pitched in with yummy home made sausage rolls, pumpkin scones and the obligatory cucumber sandwiches. Pictured left are Craig's mother Nola, Dharam, Rosie and Jill putting the finishing touches to some of the fare.

Pamela's son Ashley had a busy time serving the drinks.

Later Ashley and Dharam were on the run serving teas & coffees then did a great job washing up.

At last week's meeting Michael Grabau reminded the gentlemen members that the high tea was to be an elegant event which meant the men should dress appropriately. This announcement was apparently met with many groans and a few guffaws!

Top marks to Adrian who showed how it's done looking very cool in pin striped suit topped off with a very groovy little matching hat.

Adrian was accompanied by his lovely wife Zayda who donned a very regal hat. She is pictured right along with some of the other elegantly dressed ladies.

Mr Suave

It didn't take long to get the pool table in action and Gail spared no time in showing that she could give the boys a run for their money.

Trust George Booth to get fancy with the old "tie over the cue" routine..... while Stuart Clark has a serious word with the balls????

The tension is on here as Don Bodlovich and Graeme Hickmott get white knuckled with suspense on the side lines while Stu lines up his next shot.

Getting Serious

Jo Booth smiles innocently, she thought she had won the game..... Not so her partner who knows, you can't sink the black off the other team's ball. More practice for you Joey!

Not Happy Jan!

It was great to see members, partners and friends enjoying a chat, networking and having a good time!

Thanks again to all who attended for making this such a successful and fun afternoon.
